Safety First

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN
Director
Janesville Daily Gazette Information Bureau, Washington, D. C.

Washington, July 3.—Children, the accident season is on. Vacation and broken bones come in the summer. Therefore beware of the streets! Look carefully in every direction before crossing. Don't take any chances with moving vehicles. Don't use your front street as a baseball field.

This is the substance of the message delivered by policemen to 60,000 school children in Washington last week, through a well worked out campaign, just before the closing of the schools. Those who could not be reached by policemen, speakers were talked to by their teachers, after which each child was presented with a printed but personal message from Major Raymond W. Fullman, chief of police, pointing out the dangers of carelessness and requesting cooperation in the prevention of accidents.

Safety Campaign Waged.

The policemen of Washington have been talking safety first to school children off and on for the past five years, but this summer a special safety campaign was carried on just for the school vacation, because it is in the school vacation period that accidents among children are most numerous.

"The streets of large cities like Washington," says Major Fullman, "make very poor playgrounds, but unfortunately during the summer many children are thrown upon them in the absence of any other facilities for recreation. These streets are filled with vehicles of all kinds, and in the midst of them there can be no natural place for the children who live in the surrounding buildings. As a result of these conditions, many children are killed, maimed and crippled every year, often by reason of their own failure to obey a few simple rules."

These rules, compiled by the police department, are also suggested for the careful consideration of adults.

The use of the automobile is increasing at an enormous pace, and with it the number of accidents. In the state of Maryland, one out of every 12 persons owns an automobile, and to judge by the appearance of the streets the percentage is even higher in Washington. At our rate, the number of automobiles in this city has increased by 12,000 in the past year, and the only thing that is holding it down at present is the inability of the motor car companies to fill orders. Cars are being delivered six and eight months after they are ordered, and a few of the most popular automobile agencies have ceased taking orders altogether. The same is true of other cities. The use of automobiles is increasing all over the country with amazing rapidity.

Driving Car is Hazardous.

Driving car is much more hazardous than it was three years ago. There are twice as many accidents. In Washington, the mortality for automobile accidents is nearly two a week. In New York one person is killed by a street accident every 14 hours, and one person is injured every 23 minutes. Under the circumstances the average motorist is compelled to be a dangerous and a bitarct, and the individual who wanders about it absently is taking chances similar to those of the soldier who carelessly sticks his head out of the trenches in wartime.

The danger is also enhanced by the permanent misunderstanding which exists between automobile owners and the few pedestrians who are not pedestrian when they have driven a car, and have the remotest idea of the difficulties besetting the path of the motorist, and puts the responsibility entirely upon him. It is a common occurrence to observe a pedestrian slowly and calmly proceeding across the street in front of a moving automobile, the expression on his face obviously proclaiming, "Well, if you drive one of these things, it's up to you to look out!"

On the other hand, the motorist expects the pedestrian to know all about the mechanism of his car.

REINSH ASKS SPIRIT
OF AID FOR CHINA

Peking, July 3.—Dr. Paul S. Reinhart, American minister to China, when questioned today concerning Japanese criticism of the new plan for financing Chinese loans, explained that the consortium rests upon open co-operation between America, Great Britain, France and Japan in a spirit of mutual helpfulness to China.

"The agreement involves no monopoly," he said. "Each national group is to include every institution interested in Chinese finance. Other nations interested in China will be admitted when they have the necessary capital strength. As the capital interest of foreign interests in China will affect the progressive partition of China through the growth of local areas of influence. The Chinese government with the united support of the great powers will be strengthened in every function it exercises."

London, July 3.—The report from the giant airship R-34 to the air minister at 5 o'clock New York time showed that she was continuing her progress in an almost due westerly course. At 9 o'clock Greenwich time her position was 62 degrees 50 minutes, north latitude and 34 degrees, 30 minutes west longitude. The report said the airship was cruising above fog.

To Arrive Friday

The British air ministry announced today that it expected the dirigible in mid-ocean on her trans-Atlantic flight to reach St. John's, N. F., Friday morning, and Hazelhurst Field, Long Island, early Saturday morning.

The giant airship continued her progress today and at 6 o'clock New York time reported her position as 52 degrees, 50 minutes north latitude, 34 degrees west longitude, indicating that she had gone due west four degrees since her report at 6:11 o'clock Greenwich time.

Ready to Receive Flyer

Mineola, N. Y., July 3.—With everything in readiness to receive the giant dirigible R-34, ordered by the royal air force, the United States navy aviators and United States army fliers are constantly on the alert to maintain a perfection of organization that will ensure the landing of the great gas bag without mishap.

The R-34 will not establish direct radio communication with Roosevelt Field until within about six hundred miles off the coast as her sending apparatus will not carry beyond that distance.

The navy aviation unit of some 200 men will corral the big ship the moment she nears the field and make her fast. Seven companies of army aviation ground men will assist in handling the great bag.

Beginning tonight series of searchlights will light up "Dobson of Light" and will place their signals of location.

SIZZLING CLASH
OVER TESTIMONY IN TOWNLEY TRIAL

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Jackson, Minn., July 3.—A sizzling clash between prosecuting attorney E. H. Nichols and Attorney George Howe over the testimony of Ferdinand Howie, took place a few moments after the trial of A. C. Townley and Joseph Gilbert, charged with conspiracy to teach disloyalty, was resumed this morning.

Hoke, counsel for the Non-Partisan League, sought to show that Teigen wrote a book some months ago after he was discharged from the Non-Partisan League and that in this book he did not say that in the Non-Partisan League being disloyal.

In the attorney's argument Nichols accused Hoke of attempting to use improper methods in an effort to lay a foundation for impeachment of the witness.

Teigen testified that he did not have his book with him. The book, he testified yesterday, dealt with the inside of the national Non-Partisan League.

"Mr. Teigen, you say had no communication with Mr. Nichols about assisting in this trial as a witness until last Saturday?" asked Mr. Holte.

"I had no communication with Mr. Nichols or any other living man until I read about the case in the Chicago Herald-Examiner while I was at Fond du Lac, Wis.," replied the witness. "I didn't know the case existed."

Teigen was asked by Attorney Hoke in December, 1918, he told Attorney Sullivan of the Non-Partisan League that he was making a lot of money out of the other side—the side opposed to the league; that they owed him $3,700 and that you might employ Sullivan to collect that money. "Sullivan is a liar," said Teigen.

Berlin, Wednesday, July 2.—Emil von Stauff, director of the Deutsche Bank, and one of the German financial delegates at Versailles, died yesterday. Financial circles in Berlin were greatly apprehensive that Vienna might fall into the hands of the Bolsheviks, fearing that there indicating the city as politically imminent danger in view of the activities of Hungarian communists.

The Hungarians, he said, were not only generously spending corruption funds, but had succeeded in perfecting an organization to a degree threatening the overthrow of the Krempe cabinet and the proclamation of a new republic.

Edmond de Valera.

Edmond de Valera who recently came to the United States bearing the title, "president of the Irish republic," has had a romantic career. Born of a South American father and an Irish mother in New York city, he trod many tangled paths before he returned to the city of his nativity as the leader of the Irish nationalistic movement. In late years, he has spent much of his time in British prisons and at one time was condemned to death.

NEW COMMISSIONS
FOR PEACE WORK
ARE APPOINTED

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Paris, Wednesday, July 3.—The Council of Five appointed three commissions today to continue the work of the peace conference.

The commission for the execution of the German treaty consists of John Foster Dulles, United States; Sir Eyre Crowe, England; Captain Adre Tardieu, France; and Vitorio Scialoja, Italy.

The commission for the organization of permanent reparations consists of Louis Loucheur, France; Sir H. Peel, England; Dr. S. J. Cressi, Italy; and M. Moni, Japan.

The commission for the co-ordination of Bulgarian frontiers will be Mr. Dulles, M. Tardieu, and Mr. Peel.

The council also heard M. Bratiano, Rumanian prime minister and Basile Maklakov, Russian ambassador to France, speaking for Rumania and Russia, respectively, concerning the Bessarabian frontier. M. Maklakov, respectively, opposed the annexation of Bessarabia to Rumania without a plebiscite, suggesting that the majority of the population was Russian. M. Bratiano spoke for Rumania and Russia, respectively, concerning the Bessarabian frontier, which are essentially Rumanian.

ALDERMAN JOHN DULIN
ACTING HEAD OF CITY

Alderman J. J. Dulin, president of the council, is acting mayor of the city during the absence of Mayor T. E. Welsh. This announcement was made by the mayor yesterday prior to his departure for Toledo to attend the fight between Dempsey and Wilder.

"I will be away from the city for three or four days and during that time Mr. Dulin will act as mayor," Mayor Welsh said. He expects to return to Janesville Sunday morning. He left for Toledo in company with W. U. Keeley, J. Francis, Edward Klemmer and Ames Hebburg.

But leaving Mayor Welsh said that he urgently hoped every member of the council would attend the informal meeting to be held in his office at the city hall next Tuesday evening. The meeting was called by the mayor for the purpose of discussing the installation of a new police department, the purchase of a new police patrol and the adjustment of the wages of the policemen and firemen.

"GOOD MEN WILL BE GIVEN PLACES ON FORCE"--MORRISSEY

Acting Chief of Police Thomas Morrissey in discussing the police situation today said that he was anxious to obtain the services of good men for the department and that as long as he was head of the force only good men would be put on. Harry Ward, overseas veteran, was put on this morning.

Mr. Morrissey said that it would require considerable time to reorganize the department, but he was sure that the city would have a police department that the citizens would be proud of.

That the department is in dire need of a new patrol is evidenced by the fact that the present one has been in the garage for the past two days, and if the chief or the desk sergeant receive a hurried call they have to borrow a car.

JUNE BUSY MONTH FOR POLICE FORCE

One of the busiest months in the annals of police history in Janesville was experienced during the month of June, according to the report of Acting Chief Thomas Morrissey. During the 30 days 115 arrests were made, of which number 60 were for drunk.

Chief Morrissey said that 71 were taken into custody and the workers said that 10 of them were convicted and paid fines or received jail sentences. Besides the 60 taken for drunkenness, two were incorrigible, one auto thief, one assault with intent to do bodily harm, one wife abandoned, two driving cars while intoxicated, one larceny, one resisting arrest, and one indecent exposure.

FRENCH ORPHAN WRITES TO GIRLS OF VOCATIONAL SCHOOL

A letter has recently been received by the girls of the vocational school from a French orphan. The girl adopted the orphan last February, during the drive to help the fatherless children of France. The letter shows the deep gratitude which the French hold toward the Americans. It has been translated as follows:

"Dear Benefactors:

"This is the first time that any of our family have received an American gift. We know very well that nobody will be forgotten, the generous American children. So we are very happy and very touched and thank you all our own benefactors.

"We shall from now on send our regards to that country so far away which has saved our unhappy native land and which has dried our tears. My little letter will tell you my history and will cross the great ocean like your brave soldiers."

"We are three little girls, nine, seven and five years old. I am the eldest and I go to school. They made a little model letter that I have copied because I am not very well educated, having always been in the country.

"Our village has 30 houses. There is only one school and one town hall. We are renters, having a house and a few acres, for we do not own our land.

"Mother wishes to have our pictures taken soon and we shall cross that ocean which does not separate us any longer. Like our hearts—to thank you all for that which gladdened our faces and brought tears of joy to our eyes. With regard for not troubling you all, I give you my respects.

MARIE JEANNE CABROL."

necessary ends. Woodrow Wilson, president of the United States, and Robert Lansing, secretary of state of America, and Georges Clemenceau, president of the council of ministers and minister of war, and Stephen Pichon, minister of foreign affairs, specially authorized to that effect. Raymond Poincaré, president of the French republic, have agreed upon the following:

"Article I.—The following stipulations concerning the left bank of the Rhine are contained in the peace treaty signed with Germany at Versailles June 28, 1919, by the United States of America, the government of the French republic and by the British empire, among other powers:

"Article XI.—Germany is prohibited from maintaining or constructing fortifications either on the left bank of the Rhine or on the right bank west of a line running fifty kilometers to the east of that river."

"Article XLIII.—In the area defined above the maintenance and the assembly of armed forces, either permanently or temporarily, and military maneuvers of any kind, as well as the keeping of all permanent works for mobilization are in the same way forbidden.

"Article XLIV.—In case Germany violates in any manner whatever the provisions of article XI and XLIII she shall be regarded as committing an hostile against the powers signatory of the present treaty and as contributing to disturb the peace of the world."

"U. S. Bound To Bring Aid

"In case these stipulations should not assure immediately to France appropriate security and protection the United States of America shall be bound to come immediately to her aid in case of any unprovoked act of aggression directed against her by Germany."

"Article II.—The present treaty touches in terms analogous to those of the armistice concluded on the same date and to the same end between Great Britain and the French republic, a copy of which is hereto annexed and will not enter into force until the moment when the latter is ratified."

"Article III.—The present treaty must be submitted to the council of the society of nations and must be recognized by the same, deciding its acceptance as by majority as an engagement in conformity with the covenant of the society. It will remain in force until, upon demand of one of the parties to the treaty the council deciding, if occasion arise by a majority finds that the society itself assures sufficient protection."

"To Be Submitted to Senate

"Article IV.—The present treaty shall be ratified by submission to the members of the French parliament for approval and it shall be submitted to the senate of the United States of America at the same time as the treaty of Versailles shall be submitted for assent to ratification. Ratifications shall be exchanged at the time of deposit in Paris of the ratifications of the treaty of Versailles as soon afterwards as possible."

"Then follow the signatures of M. Clemenceau, M. Pichon, Mr. Wilson and Mr. Lansing.

"The agreement between Great Britain and France corresponds with that between United States and France, with an additional provision that the treaty imposes no obligation upon any of the dominions of the British empire unless and until it be proved by the parliament of each dominion interested."

"Never to Hatch Behind Moving Vehicles

"Never to play games in the middle of the street. Before chasing your ball see that no wagons or automobiles are coming up or down the street. Better save your life than your ball."

"Don't Run Across Streets Through Heavy Traffic

"The busiest man I know wastes at least 80 minutes a day; why risk your life to save five seconds crossing the street? Cross streets at crossings only. Watch for policeman's signal. Never attempt to cross the street with a bundle or umbrella in front of your face, or reading a newspaper. Either hides oncoming vehicles from your view."

"Never Jump off a Moving Car

"Wait for it to stop, and then look out for traffic. Stand still if you get caught in a traffic jam. It may save your life."

To these the Washington police department adds the following warnings for children:

"Do not touch any part of an automobile standing in the street.

"Look out for motorcycles; look both ways, for the motorcycle comes quickly and often without warning."

"Do not cross close behind a street cat or automobile. Something may be coming from the other direction. A little girl who failed to heed this warning was pinned under the wheels of a street car and killed just the other day. It is equally important not to run across in front of a street car. Something may be coming on the other side."

Not to Play With Matches

A few miscellaneous warnings to children are tucked into the street safety propaganda. They are cautioned to "Get close to a bonfire, stand in the open, also, not to light a match if they smell gas in a room, but to find some older person and tell him. They are not to climb on ice wagons after a piece of ice. This is dangerous, inasmuch as the horses are apt to start on suddenly, and the child may be crushed by falling ice."

Another dangerous proceeding is to touch down a wire that is in the air or on the ground. Such a wire is likely to be a live electric wire, with the power on, and capable of killing or badly burning anyone who touches it.

"Finally, remember that accidents do not just happen," says Major Pullman. "They are caused. And the greatest, most ipsoeasable cause is carelessness."

Exalted Ruler Joseph Scholler

issued a call today for all members of the local Elks' lodge, to report at the clubrooms Monday morning at 8 o'clock to assist in the drive.

members of the Elks." Mr. Howe said, "but this campaign is open to all and is being staged by the Elks at the request of the United States Government."

Rock county has been asked to raise $22,000 for the Salvation Army and Beloit $11,000. Reports received from Beloit indicate that the drive will be completed there in a short time.

Several meetings were held throughout the county last night for the purpose of organizing for the drive. Fred Howe, H. M. McDonald, H. Green, and Charles Murgison were in charge of a meeting at Edgerton. J. M. Coney and Andrew McIntosh were named as chairmen in charge of the drive in Edgerton. A. C. Gardner, H. R. Cowan and R. Silverthorn were named in Footville.

J. H. Scholler and George Thomas were in charge of a meeting held at Evansville at which R. M. Richmond, Paul Bakeman and Rev. McDonald were named as chairmen.

J. P. Holmes will have charge of the drive in Milton. G. C. Hull and H. E. Mabson will direct the work in Milton Junction.

BEATEN BY DRUNKEN MAN MONDAY NIGHT

Another brutal attack Monday night when Janesville was bidding farewell to John Barleycorn was reported to the police yesterday by Dan Voss. Mr. Voss told the police that while walking on Milwaukee street about 9 o'clock he was knocked down by one of the celebrants.

Mr. Voss suffered a severe injury to his right eye. The name of the assailant was given the police and Acting Chief Morrissey said he would make every effort to locate the man.

Frank Little who was assaulted by three thugs on Milwaukee avenue Monday night is reported to be improving rapidly. Edward Spaulding who suffered a severe scalp wound when pushed against a lamp post is also recovering.

SALOON SUBSTITUTES.

Janesville, along with other cities of the nation, faces a problem which must be taken into consideration without delay. Prohibition is in effect.

Those who have been accustomed to meet their fellows in the saloons have suddenly been confronted with closed doors. In fact their social centers have been gone away with through decree of the president. Next year national prohibition will be effective and there is no reason to believe that a change back to the old condition will ever be made.

Bootlegging is sure to become more or less prevalent in most communities. Officers of the law are going to do all in their power to stamp it out.

They will be unable to meet the emergency because the government cannot furnish a man to watch each person who has the inclination to peddle booze.

In this city on the last night the bars were operating one man bought as much as $1,100 worth of whiskey in one saloon. It is reasonable to suppose that that amount of booze will not be consumed by that man or his family or his friends.

Each community must take some steps to provide social clubs or comfort places for the man who works and cannot afford to belong to a private club. It is natural that a man mingle with his fellows. He should be encouraged to keep away from the bootlegger.

Dr. John Nolan in an address before a number of citizens some months ago made a suggestion which will appeal to many. He declared that efforts should be made to retain the saloon atmosphere; that those who had been accustomed to rest their heel on bar rail and crook the elbow at the marhogany should be allowed to continue to do so. He asserted that the back-bar and the mirror should be retained and that encouragement should be given patrons to loaf in their loafing hours. He suggested card tables for those who cared to indulge in a friendly game. Of course he stood firmly for strict sale of temperance drinks.

This seems a mighty reasonable plan and it should not only be one of the means of solving the problem in Janesville, but it should be profitable to the enterprising men who can conduct a place of that kind in a manner that will draw the trade.

With our population increasing every day, it should be the business of those interested in the community's welfare to get back of some such project.

BUILD FOR FUTURE.

The council is going to meet in special session next Tuesday night to provide for adequate police equipment, including a signal system, a patrol wagon and an ambulance.

The situation has been clarified to some extent and progress is being made toward an efficient department.

It is hoped that the council, in making plans, will see the advisability of preparing for the future city—not the present. With growth increasing each month, it will be necessary to have the best equipment the city can buy, so that in a year or two it will not be necessary to again have to tear down and build up. A force is being gotten together and efforts are being made to get a permanent chief.

The council has an opportunity to give the city the best department in this part of the state, and even though the initial outlay of expense may seem great, it would be economical to buy for years to come.

One phase of the police situation which it seems necessary to consider is that of putting plain-clothes men on the streets. It is a well known fact that a policeman in uniform has little opportunity to catch law violators unless they are caught in the act. With a change in conditions, as the result of prohibition, a closer watch will have to be kept on many situations. Two or more good men as detectives could do a lot of good work in the months to come.

UPGRADING IN INDUSTRIES.

If every soldier were back on his old job the country would still be

4,000,000 short of its normal number of workers due to the loss of immigration the past four years; if industry does not quickly develop some means for overcoming this shortage it will be seriously handicapped in adjusting itself to new conditions, say officials of the U. S. Training service of the department of labor.

They point out that the country has gone without its normal supply of peace-time commodities for years and now it must replenish freely. Furthermore, Europe has lost millions of men and tens of billions of property in the devastated regions must be made good. It is urged that to meet this extraordinary situation the workers in factories and shops must be assisted in increasing their skill and interest in their work. The estimated shortage in this country of 700,000 heads is cited as showing how far the nation is behind normal production.

Training courses in the industrial plants, conducted at the employers' expense, are advocated as one of the practical means of putting industry on a normal footing. More than 350 firms have already instituted courses of this sort and according to reports received by the training service, have benefited in better production and reduced turnover. The workers on the other hand have increased their skill and broadened their knowledge of their trades.

THE CLOVER SITUATION.
"Unless Wisconsin farmers make their first cutting of clover for hay a week earlier than usual, and then plan to use the second crop for seed, this state will experience a clover seed shortage that will completely upset the four year rotation that is the mainstay of Wisconsin farming," says the Wisconsin experiment station."Not only will the profits from the clover seed more than repay for the smaller crop of hay, but a return to the old practice of using the second crop for seed will assure the necessary acreage of medium red clover in the future.""It is especially necessary that the first cutting be made early. Many farmers who will allow their clover to reach the full cutting stage and then depend upon the second crop for seed will be disappointed in the yield of seed. When the field is to serve for both seed and hay, the first cutting should be made just when the field is in early blossom. This is about a week earlier than the usual cutting time for hay."

DR. ANNA HOWARD SHAW.

Suffragists alone will not mourn the death of Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, honorary president of the National American Women's Association, who died yesterday, but the whole nation will feel her loss.Dr. Shaw has long been prominent identified with the woman's suffrage movement and was president of the National American Women's Suffrage Association for 11 consecutive years. In 1915 she declined the re-nomination and was then elected honorary president.She had spoken in every state in the union, before state legislatures and committees of both houses of congress in the interest of suffrage.Germany's insincerity even at the time she was on her knees begging for peace is shown by the announcement that she has been building cannons by the thousands while the armistice was in effect. Still she whispers because the peace terms are too severe. She should again be stripped to the bone, it is necessary to make her feel the responsibility, she owes the remainder of the world.A whole lot of people in the United States are of the opinion that fight fans who spend huge sums of money to see one pug slug another for the world championship are a little bit of balance, as well as those who hold up their hands in holy horror at the brutality of the spectacle will glance at the results just the same when it is flashed in the newspapers.

Races at Church Picnic Give Way to Heat

Tuesday, the United Brethren church picnic was held at Yost's park. It was given under the auspices of the Sunday school but all the church members and their friends were invited. More than 100 picnickers board at the 10 o'clock interurban car.

A picnic dinner was served at noon under the direction of Mrs. A. F. Wood, chairman of the "eats" committee.

Paul Claxton and Elmer Schultz had a lot of stunts, races and swimming contests, planned but most every one pleaded off because of the heat.

Some of the less listless ones staged a baseball game in the afternoon. The Comrades and the High Flyers were the contestants.

Many of the picnickers went for a boat ride down the river and some went in swimming.

Supper was served in time for the crowd to take the 6:30 car home.

TALLEST MAN IN 128TH REGIMENT ARRIVES IN CITY

Marvin ("Shorty") Levenick, 6 feet tall, mess sergeant with Madison's Co. G. fighters throughout their 16 months of service in France, has arrived in Janesville to manage the new Lawrence cafeteria-restaurant which will be opened on West Milwaukee street this month.

"He is the darned mess sergeant in the army," is the opinion of the Capital City fighters had of him.

Accorded the tallest man in the regiment Sergeant Levenick set a record seldom equalled, by keeping the company supplied with food at all times. Whether the men were dug in, safe from German bullets, biding their time in trenches or advancing by hand fighting, foot by foot, Levenick got food to them.

Once when Co. G was lying in holes in the dead of night, with the Germans a short distance in front of them, Levenick got a horse and, with a small detail, took hot "slum" to the men. He never asked his detail to go where he himself would not. Taking gun, he would accompany his men up to the front lines on every trip with food.

Levenick slow to respond to the oft-repeated cry "Where Do We Eat." In the Alsace sector, Levenick and his cooks stayed up all night, twice weekly, to serve the men with fresh doughnuts. The best and plenty of it, was his motto.

Neither was Levenick slow to joke in company. During the first charge of Co. G at Ranchiers, when the Madison boys got their first taste of real battle, every cook, together with Levenick, volunteered to "go over the top." Armed with guns, they took their place along with the regular fighters and fought until every German was on the run. Levenick is credited with "getting" a Hun at a distance of 500 yards, a good shot for anybody.

In this fight, a Madison cook named William Schnurbush went over the top armed with a bread knife.

DRINKERS HIT HARD

BAD LUCK CONTINUES TO FOLLOW THIS LAD

If any kind citizen has a good luck omen of any description that they are not in need of it, it will be greatly appreciated by Walter Kettle, employed by the Gazette. Twice in less than a month bad luck has paid a visit to Mr. Kettle and both times he has been the loser.

About 10 days ago, while riding his bicycle in Spring Brook he was bitten by a dog and laid up for several days. It was real sunshiny weather and Walter was losing a lot of enjoyment while confined.

Last night Walter came back after his evening meal to work a few hours. He left his bicycle in front of the Gazette office as usual.

Nine o'clock came and Walter left the office to go home. When he reached the street his bicycle was missing and he could not find anyone who had any idea where it was.

Walter was again a loser but a good one and he started on a systematic search for his wheel. After several hours the wheel was found at Goose Island and Walter went home smiling and wondering what was going to happen next.

Twenty dollars was received this morning for the relief fund for the morning's sale of Fergus Falls, Minn.

This swells the total quite a bit, but a great deal more is needed. Over 200 people were killed, hundreds were made homeless and a loss of two and a half million dollars was inflicted by a tornado which swept that city June 22.

Cities all over the country are being asked to help and Janesville should do its share, especially as we are so near them.

Those wishing to help swell the fund still further should leave the money at the Gazette office. Checks should be made out to the Gazette Tornado Relief Fund.

Read our page advertisement in this paper and after learning of the wonderful bargains you will surely attend the sale which starts Saturday morning. Hinterschied's Department Store, 23-25 W. Milwaukee St.

Mr. Buck, Private, Puts Comedy Into Army Life

BY LEWIS C. FRENCH.
The best comedian in the world—as well as being the real man of the war—was his majesty, Mr. Buck Private, of the U. S. A. The funniest things in the world occur in the service overseas, but in most every instance they do not appear as being humorous at the time the incidents are born.

In every battery or company, and even down to the section, there are to be found soldiers who are true optimists. They always see a laugh. Once there is a warning wail, there is a general dash for cover. After the "pop" and detonation, heads begin to appear and if no one is hurt, the shell a "clod" some "buck" has the production of a laugh on his lips. What is more, they know how to develop the old "old overseas" cry, "When 'do we Eat?" and later after the armistice that cry and "I want a go Home!" When an entire regiment took up these plaintive voices only the colonel looked dignified and the "second lots" sputtered and fumed the "vain." The "Buck's" Rank.

The best laugh I ever had in the army was a Saint Aignan-Noyer.

Every "Agn" victim knows there were mighty few laughs in that mud-hole. It had rained a week straight, freezing at night and thawing during the day. More than 6,000 soldiers in that particular area had turned the sea of mud into a disgusting, oozy mass of fest foot deep. Habit still dictated among most of the soldiers. It was almost law in the C. A. C. service to shave daily and most of the soldiers used the razor rain or no rain. There were about a dozen of us huddled around a well of the famed old oaken bucket type—but containing very cold, stale water—trying to shave. In the mud on rocks to keep out of the mud. It was just after morning chow and the general spirits had not been enlightened to any great extent with cold beans and black coffee.

Along came a sergeant of the camp headquarters. He had an ax and detail to shovel mud. As soon as he "hove into sight" the privates quickly and successfully evaporated from his eyesight and call of his voice. The "non-coms" paid no attention for they were not required to work. That sergeant was "hard-boiled" as an old regular Marine corporal before the war.

"Hey you, what's your rank?" he shouted to the first soldier in line shaving near the wall cave. "Non-com" answered the soldier. So on down the line, each man professing he was a "non-com" or was on sick report and marked quarters. The sergeant raved fury and wrath. "Hump of Misery.

He happened to see a doughboy (buck private) seated on the ledge of the stable door, the entrance to our billets. The "buck" here the most disgruntled air one could ask for for a picture of utter woe and misery. He vainly tried to smoke a wet "fist." He scowled and frowned and swore. The sergeant stepped up to him, cut the "buck" never wavered in his attempt to scowl at the world.

"And say you—you hump of misery, what are you, a general or something?"

The doughboy looked up, squinted his eyes, wet his fist with his lips and came back in a tone that cut like a knife.

"Me—hell—I'm disgusted!" He was put on the stable bay an hour later, came sauntering back, still trying to smoke the cigarette.

Prince of Wales to be Entertained Like a King While On Visit to U. S.

Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, the Prince of Wales and the Duchess of Roxburgh.

Washington—Plans are rapidly being made for the expected visit of England's crown prince to the United States. The prince will go to Canada first, of course. It is said that he promised a Canadian regiment at its farewell dinner in London about a month ago that he would visit them at home "in about three months." It is not known how long he will be in Canada, or what his program there may be, but he is expected in the United States about August 13 and will remain here about two weeks.

It has been reported that the Duchess of Roxburgh will manage the social affairs of the prince while he is in this country. The duchess was Miss Mary Goelet before her marriage, daughter of Mrs. Ogden Goelet of New York and Newport. She has been a much discussed question and everybody is wondering whether the White House will tackle a state ball in his honor. Dancing has not been much in favor at the executive mansion during the present regime, but circumstances alter cases. Mrs. Wilson is expected here July 1 and there will be plenty of time to prepare for the royal guest. The prince will be the guest of the president and will be the guest of the president and Mrs. Wilson at the White House for the Kaiser's brother and not in the capital.

The tentative dates for his stay in the country are August 13 to 25. The point of entrance has not yet decided. His grandfather, Edward VII, entered by way of Detroit, but the prince will come directly to Washington and will, of course, be received with every possible honor, outranking that for any guest Washington ever has entertained. He outranks Prince Henry of Prussia, the one guest of approximately his rank that Washington has entertained with the honor of the present generation. The Prince of Wales, who is to be the first to appear in the throne of Great Britain and the Indian Empire, "whereas Prince Henry was more beloved than his brother and not in the line of succession."

There will naturally be the sturdiest sort of state functions in honor of the prince. Of course there will be a state dinner at the White House, and who wonders if the president will be able to train the gentlemen of color who usually serve there to properly prostrate themselves, as was done at Windsor on the occasion of the president and Mrs. Wilson's visit there?

Seriously, the young Prince of Wales, who celebrates his twenty-fourth birthday next Monday, is a simple, democratic young man, even if he is heir to the greatest empire in the world. He'll undoubtedly get along quite comfortably without any undue amount of bowing and scraping. From Washington he will go to New York for two days, and it is probable that during those two days he will run up to Newport for the much heralded visit to Mrs. Ogden Goelet. And he will make a flying visit to the west, stopping, according to present plans, at only a few cities, among them Akron, where he will inspect rubber plants, St. Louis and probably Chicago. It is understood he particularly wishes to see one of the big western irrigation projects, but there doesn't seem much chance of his being able to take time for it. Anyway, he is going to be a hard working young prince, and this will be no mere leisurely pleasure jaunt.

Incidentally, it is said to be correct that the prince merely as "The Prince of Wales"—just like that. His brothers are H. R. H.'s, but they don't use those letters for him. His name is Edward Albert, reversing his grandfather's—and then some. Besides being Prince of Wales he is Duke of Cornwall and Duke of Rothesay, and he is a dozen or more different sorts of baron. Also, on the word of one who knows, he's "an awfully nice lad, absolutely unassuming, in fact even a bit shy."

Pieces of Eight

Being the authentic narrative of the treasure discovered in the Bahama Islands in the Year 1003—now first given to the public.

By RICHARD LE GALLIENNE.

Copyright by Doubleday, Page & Co.

"We needn't go any further," said the "king." "It's the same all the way along to the mouth—all overgrown as you see, all the way, right to the 'white water' as they call it—which is four miles of shoal sand that is seldom deeper than two fathoms, and which a nor'easter is liable to blow dry for a week on end. Naturally it's a hard place to find, and hard place to get off—and only two or three persons besides Sweeney—all of them our friends—know the way in.

Tobias may know it; but to know is one thing, to find it is another. I could hardly be sure of it myself—if I were standing in from the sea, with nothing but the long almeito-fringed coast line to go by.

"Now you see it?" I brought you here, because words—

"Even yours, dear 'king! I laughed. "—could not explain what I suggest or us to do. You are interested in Tobias. Tobias is interested in you, and interested in you both. And Calypso and I have a treasure to guard."

"I have still a treasure to seek," I said, half to myself.

"Now, to be practical. We can assume that Tobias is on the watch. I don't mean that he's around here just now, for before we left I spoke to Samson and Erebus and they will pass the word to four men blacker than themselves; therefore we can assume that this square mile or so is for the moment 'to ourselves.' But beyond our fence you may rely that Tobias and his myrmidons—is that the word?" I was asked with a concession to his natural foolishness—"are there?"

"So," he went on, "I want you to go down to your boat—tomorrow morning to say goodbye to the commandant, the parson and the postmaster; to haul up your sail and head for Nassau. Call on Sweeney on the way, buy an extra box of cartridges, and say 'Dieu et mon Droit'—it is our password; he will understand, but, if he shouldn't, explain in your own way that you come from me, and that we rely upon him to look out for our interest. Then head straight for Nassau; but, about eight o'clock, or anywhere around twilight, turn about and head—well, we'll map it out on the chart at home—anywhere up to eight miles along the coast till you come to a light low down right on the edge of the water. As soon as you see it drop anchor; then wait till morning—the very beginning of dawn. As soon as you can see land look out for Samson—with a hundred yards of you—all the land will look alike to you. Only make the captain head straight for Samson, and just as you think you are going to run ashore—Well, you will see!"

CHAPTER V.

Old Friends.

Next morning I did as the "king" had told me to do. The whole program was carried out just as he had planned it. I made my goodbyes in the settlement, as we had arranged, not forgetting to say "Dieu et mon Droit" to Sweeney, and watching with some humorous intent how he would take it. He took it quietly, as a man in a signal box takes a signal, with about as much emotion and with just the same necessary seriousness.

"Tell the boss," he said—of course he meant the "king"—"that we are looking after him. Nothing'll slip through here, if we can help it. Good luck!"

So I went down to the boat—to old Tom once more, and the rest of our little crew, who had long since exhausted the attractions of their life ashore and were glad, as I was, to "H'ist Up the John B. Sail."

Down in my cabin I looked over some mail that had been waiting for me at the post office. Amongst it was a crisp, characteristic word from Charlie Webster—for whom the gun will ever be mightier than the pen:

"Tobias escaped—just heard he is on your island—watch out! Will follow in a day or two."

I came out on deck about sunset. We were running along with all our sails drawing like a dream. I looked back at the captain, proud and quiet and happy there at the helm, and nodded a smile to him, which he returned with a flash of his teeth. He loved his boat; he asked nothing better than to watch her behaving just as she was doing. And the other boys seemed quiet and happy too, lying along the sides of the house, ready for the captain's order, but meanwhile content to look up at the great sails and down again at the sea.

We were a ship and a ship's crew all at peace with one another, and contented with ourselves—rushing and sipping and spraying through the water. We were all friends—sea and sails and crew together. I couldn't help thinking that a mutiny would be hard to arrange under such a combination of influences.

Tom was sitting forward plaiting a rope. For all our experiences together he never implied that he was anything more than the ship's cook, with the privilege of waiting upon me in the cabin at my meals. But of course he knew that I had quite another valuation of him, and as our eyes met I beckoned to him to draw closer to me.

"Tom," I said, "I have found my treasure."

"You don't say so, sir."

"Quite true, Tom," I continued; "you shall see my treasure tomorrow; meanwhile read this note." Tom was so much to me that I wanted him to know all about the details of the enterprise we shared together, and in which he risked his life no less than I risked mine.

Tom took out his spectacles from some recess of his trousers and applied himself to Charlie Webster's note, as though it had been the Bible. He read it as slowly, indeed, as if it had been Sanscrit, and then folded it and handed it back to me without a word. But there was quite a young smile in his old eyes.

"The wonderful works of God," he said presently. "I guess, sir, we shall soon be able to ask him what he meant by that expression."

Soon the long, dark shore loomed ahead of us. I had reckoned it out about right. But the captain announced that we were in shoal water.

"How many feet?" I asked, and a boy threw out the lead. "Sixteen and a half," he said.

"Go ahead," I called out.

"Do you want to go aground?" asked the captain.

For answer I pushed him aside and took the wheel. He had caught the smallest glimmer, like a night light, floating on the water.

"Drop the anchor," I called.

The light inshore was clear and near at hand, about one hundred yards to our left, and shot up a long arm by way of signal. It was Samson; and evidently the mouth of the creek was right there in front of us—under our very noses, so to say—and yet it was impossible to make it out. However, at this signal, I stirred up the still sleeping crew, and presently we had the anchors up, and the engine started at the slowest possible speed.

The tide was beginning to run in, so we needed very little way on us. I pointed out Samson to the captain, and, following the "king's" instructions, told him to steer straight for the negro. Samson stood there and called:

"All right, sir. Keep right on. You'll see your way in a minute."

And, sure enough, when we were barely fifty feet away from the shore, and there seemed nothing for it but to run dead aground, low down through the floating mangrove branches we caught sight of a narrow gleam starting inland, and in another moment or two our decks were swept with foliage as the Flamingo rustled in, like a bird to cover, through an opening in the bushes barely twice her beam; and there before us, snaking through the brush, was a lane of water which immediately began to broaden between palmetto-fringed banks, and was evidently deep enough for a much larger vessel.

"Plenty of water, sir," hallooed Samson from the bank, grinning a huge welcome. "Keep a-going after me," and he started trotting along the creek side.

Chicago Grain Review.
Chicago, July 3.—After advancing to new high prices for the season forecasts that showers would be well received in the West, which was due to dry, hot weather, and to another record-breaking upturn in the hog market. Later disposition to avoid open skies over the hollies became the order. Openings which ranged from 1c to 1½ higher, with September 1.63½ to 1.64½, and December 1.64 to 1.65½, were followed by finish.

Sharply higher quotations at Buenos Aires led subsequently to a fresh upturn in the market, which was due to 2c new higher with September 1.64½ to December 1.65½.

Outs were governed mainly by the action of the Argentine, which had gone 10c advance, including September 1.64 to 1.65½, the market underwent a moderate swing.

THOUSANDS AWAIT START OF HOSTILITIES

UNCERTAINTY OF OUTCOME HOLDS DOWN ALL BETTING

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS]
Toledo, July 3.—Rules governing the heavyweight championship contest between Jess Willard and Jack Dempsey in Tex Richard's $150,000 arena here tomorrow are to be officially interpreted at a meeting today attended by Ollie Pecord, the referee; Willard and Major A. J. Orexel, "Biddle," judges of the contest, the boxers' manager, and Jack Kearns, manager of the challenger.

Previous to the meeting, Willard expressed himself as being willing to box under any rules, but suggested that the contestants be permitted to box as long as an arm is free to break at once as the command of the referee and to break clean. Pecord said he understood the straight Marquis of Queensbury rules would apply, the boxers to take care of themselves at all times.

Kearns, who spoke for Dempsey, said he intended to press the point that the judges should not sit together, but on opposite sides of the ring. He also said that he did not care how the rules were interpreted, so long as each boxer and the referee agreed on what was to be done.

"Rabbit" Punch Not Barred.

The only blow that probably will be barred will be the kidney punch, which, under the rules of the Toledo boxing commission, is prohibited. Pecord is the official referee of the commission, and the "brawl" contest will be staged under license granted by the commission, the punch undoubtedly will be barred. No provision is made, however, for the rabbit punch, which Willard's admirers say is a favorite blow with the champion. The blow is delivered on the back of an opponent's neck, and Willard, as well as Dempsey, is said with punishing effect to attack the romper. The punch, it was indicated, would be allowed so long as the boxer using it did not hold his opponent with one arm.

Rickard said it was likely the boxers would agree to tape their hands in their rooms and in the presence of a representative of the rival camp. Willard previously had said he desired to have Dempsey and himself come into the ring with bare hands and to adjust the cotton bandages and a thin layer of surgical tape while in the ring. "To do this," Rickard said, "would cause unnecessary delay."

Betting Unusually Light.

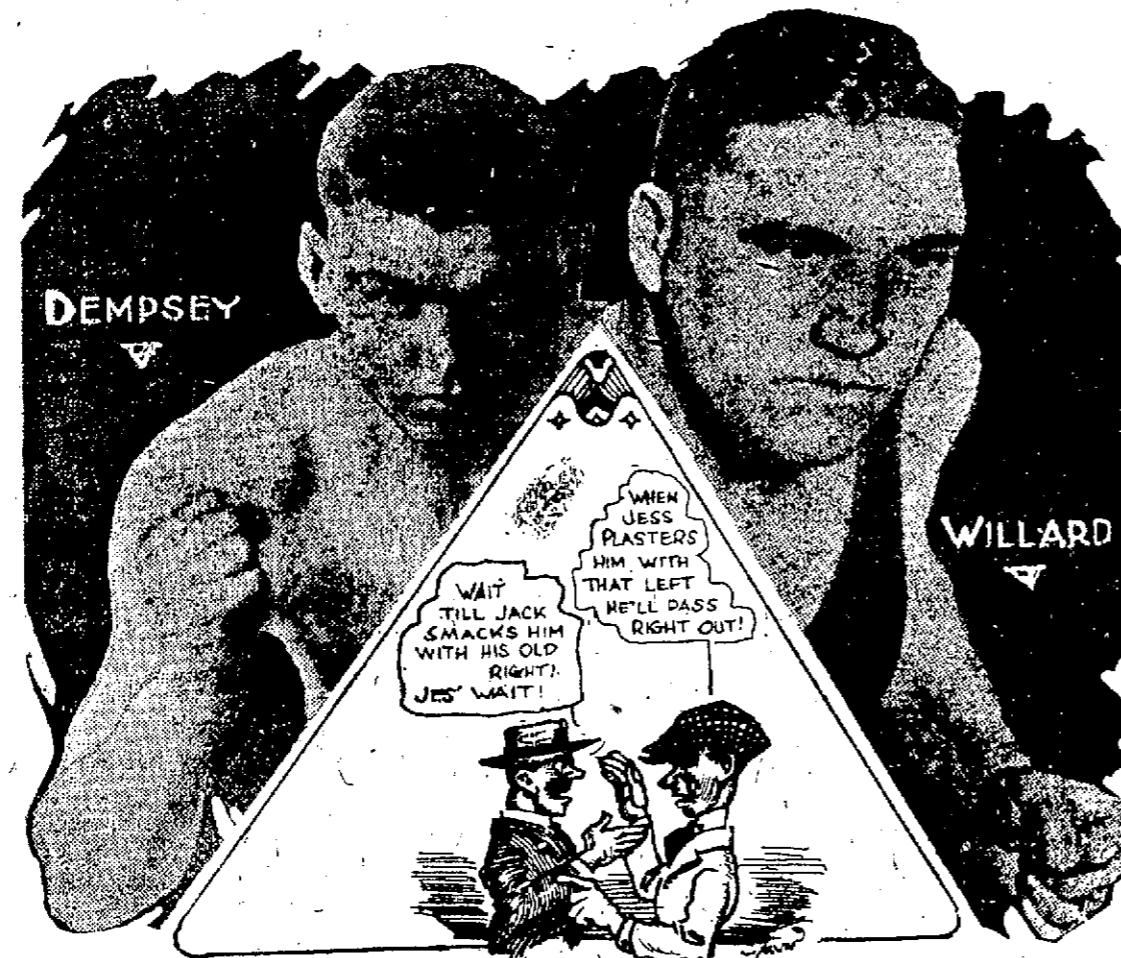

Betting on the outcome of the bout was proved surprisingly light to date, notwithstanding the gathering of thousands of prospective spectators. It was estimated this morning by one of the foremost wagering commissioners that there was not much more than $10,000 in actual stakes in the hands of the various betting concerns. He explained this situation upon the theory that while the adherents of the two heavyweights were sharply divided in their opinion of the fight, each contingent was in much respect for the disabled ability of the rival contender to lay heavily on the chances of their own favorite.

In some quarters sentiment appeared to be veering toward the champion, for while Dempsey backers were offering even money on the challenger a day or two ago, they are now asking that Willard men lay even money. Even when these odds are granted the switch does not result in any large sums being turned over to the stakeholders. At the leading commissioners' quarters, the blackboards are filled with various betting propositions which have remained unbroken, with the exception of a few freak bets, for several days. Some of these include: $100 to $1,000 that Willard does not last three rounds; $100 to $500 that Willard does not return to the ring for the fourth round. In the part mutual betting the heavy play is being made on the seventh and eighth rounds, while Dempsey is almost a two to one favorite, according to the number of tickets sold, on the result that the bout go the full twelve rounds.

Thousands Arrive Early.

Every train arriving in Toledo is unloaded in record time, hundreds of boxing fans are making the trip here in motor cars. Once they arrive, a small percentage of them go directly to hotels and claim rooms for which they made reservations a month ago, and which they are privileged to occupy at the rate of $5 a bed with two to ten beds in a room. The others walk around the streets in frenzied search for accommodations, which prove not to be found. Inns, hotels, rooming houses, bathhouses and similar establishments are sold out for tonight. Thousands of visitors who will be unable to obtain hotel accommodations will sleep on cots in several buildings which have been turned into huge dormitories. The minimum

Jack Dempsey and his right arm, at left, and Jess Willard's wonderful left.

Jess Willard's left hand and arm is the big fellow's greatest asset insofar as hisistic ability is concerned. With it he can jab as rapidly as many of the latest that Dempsey must stop Jess' southpaw mitt if he hopes to annex the title when the pair meet at Toledo, July 4.

Vet of Two Wars Gets D. S. C.: Takes Fritz, Guns, Nags

[BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS]

Lodi, Calif.—For capturing a German field piece, eight German soldiers and four horses, though under heavy German machine-gun fire, Private Andreas Vavasis of this city, has been awarded the Distinguished Service Cross. He served with Co. 363rd Infantry, and was over here bringing with him $40,000 worth of baseball goods from Clark Griffith, manager of the Washington club. These goods have been turned over to the army officials.

Lange is also looking over the teams seeking some big league material. He has made arrangements with several major league managers to sign to next spring to doughboys who he thinks show enough ability to become major league candidates.

He had been organizing and coaching baseball teams at Nice, Miramas and Marseilles, and has been taken by army officials on tours of several regions.

Plans for the winners of the A. E. F. to our America were discussed by Mr. Louis B. Johnson, president of the American League, before the former left for France. According to tentative plans, the A. WITH THE WOMEN OF TODAY

BY EDITH MORIARTY

There has been much written and said about the boys who enlisted and did things they were not accustomed to do, such things as dig trenches and build roads, but there has not been so much homage done the women who were pioneers in war duties and did things that no woman was accustomed to doing. Thousands of men and boys went to war pretty much the same things but not so with the women. The other who actually went overseas was comparatively few and it might almost be said that a woman would scarcely meet five other women who were doing or had done the things she herself was engaged in.

Miss Clara Greenleaf Perry is one such woman. Miss Perry is an American artist who was engaged in relief work in Paris in 1914. When the French army sent out a call for women chauffeurs, Miss Perry enlisted on Saturday.

On Monday she entered an automobile school in the city, drove about the streets of Paris on Tuesday, received her brevet or chauffeur's license on Friday and on Saturday was enrolled in the French army as a full-fledged poilu, the first of the three American women who served as chauffeurs with the French.

"As you are polita you must do polita work," the women were told.

For the first few months the women had to take care of their own cars, washing, oiling and repairing. Then the two American women left, and Miss Perry, with two Englishwomen organized a rest club for the French and American soldiers. In addition she put up a dispensary similar to the one she had formerly directed under the American fund for French wounded, from which she distributed supplies to the refugees who were constantly pouring in. The drivers' work consisted in bringing in these refugees as well as the wounded soldiers and at tending to the bills of officers in the government camp of Germans near by.

Miss Perry returned just recently from France and is now assisting Mrs. William Astor Chanler in her work for the French heroes Lafayette Memorial fund.

WOMEN SOLVE H. C. I. PROBLEM.

A lunch room for women only where the high cost of living is held severely in check, is located above an abandoned saloon in Brooklyn, N. Y., where its destinies are presided over by Miss Clara Harper, who has about some of the best known women of New York society. A substantial meal may be had at a cost of 17 to 27 cents.

An average of 700 women and girls lunch daily at the rooms between 11:30 and 2:30 o'clock. Here are some of the prices: Chicken in various forms, 17 cents per portion; vegetables of all kinds, 5 cents per portion; bread and butter, 2 cents; puddings and pastry, 5 cents, and a variety of other wholesome dishes at like alluring figures.

Here's a hint for church societies, for it is a church society which has put this ex-saloon to such good use.

ANTI-SYNDICALISM BILL IS KILLED AS BREAKING RIGHTS

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE]
Madison, July 3.—The assembly has killed the anti-syndicalism bill which was introduced into the upper house last week. Senator Ray F. Nyce, supporting the bill, said that the measure was introduced to drive the I. W. W. out of the state. The claim was further made that the headquarters of the I. W. W. had been recently moved from Duluth to Superior.

Non-concurrence in the bill was moved by Assemblyman Bowman, Milwaukee, and his motion carried by a vote of 37 to 35. Proceeding the roll call, Assemblyman E. W. Knoppe, Milwaukee socialist, declared that the measure interfered with the freedom of speech. He said that the bill provided that "criminal syndicalism is advocacy by speech, printing, writing or sign of crime, sabotage, malicious damage, or injury to the property of another, or of unlawful terrorism." The bill, the I. W. W. bill, Ballard, Bartling, Bauer, Becker, Bowman, Burbon, Bettger, Ehlman, Fletcher, Grimstad, Hanson, C. E. Hewett, Johnson, A. Johnson, Jordan, Kanner, Klein, Knapp, Kurnanack, Larsen, Lenz, Lovold, March, Maslakowski, Matzke, Mutter, Olmsted, Peterson, Porath, Raethel, Rufus, Schantz, Schreder, Sell, Sheldon, Stevens, Zurkke—35.

For the bill: Anderson, J. G. Anderson, P. M. Buckley, Chapman, C. C. Czerwinski, Delaney, Donnell, Edwards, French, Gari, J. C. Hanson, R. M. Hanson, J. E. Johnson, Kandutsch, Kella, Lubotski, Mathison, McDonald, Melis, Mitchell, Nolan, Cukes, Olson, Otto, Owens, Perry, Ploetz, Ruka, Webster, Whittingham, Young—35.

Absent and not voting—Ansorge, Best, Bullis, Carter, Chapman, Conner, Conner, Deffel, Fowles, Froehlender, Graas, Grindell, Bremer, M. E. Johnson, Markham, McClone, Miller, O'Brien, Pieron, Porter, Smith, Vaughan, Week, Weeman, Williams—25.

The assembly concurred in the bill placing beauty parlors under the supervision of the state board of health and fixing the annual license fee at $15. Concurrence was given to a bill passed by the special session of the legislature for a bond issue of $1,000,000. This money was never used and hence the law is repealed.

The assembly concurred in the bill increasing the vocational school age from 16 to 18 years. It passed the Anderson bill repealing a law passed at this session of the legislature appropriating $1,000 for an investigation of the International Harvester company and the operation of farm factories in prisons in other states.

The people will have an opportunity to pass on the constitutional amendment permitting a decrease in the number of circuit courts of the state. The amendment was concurred in by the assembly and a bill passed to refer it to the people at the next general election.

By a vote of 65 to 1, the assembly passed a new bill by Metcalfe providing that any city, county, village or town, "may purchase food products and supplies from the United States government from the war stores now on hand and are authorized to make all necessary and convenient regulations and provisions for the sale thereof to consumers." The bill also provides that municipalities may provide the funds by a tax levy or otherwise. The measure was asked by Mayor Muham, Milwaukee.

OWEN ANSWERS
CRITICISMS OF DELAY
IN COURT TRIAL

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
La Crosse, July 2.—That the courts of Wisconsin and of the country have been unfairly criticized for delays in administering justice, was the statement of Justice W. C. Owen of the Wisconsin and Minnesota Bar associations here this afternoon.

"The evidence adduced is sufficient to indicate a feeling," said Justice Owen, "on the part of the people that the courts are failing down in the performance of their functions in at least these respects:unnecessary delays in the administration of law; an undue regard for precedents and technicalities; and a too willing disposition to nullify acts of the legislature by condemning them as unconstitutional.

"With the exception of the circuit courts of Milwaukee county, continued Justice Owen, "the courts of record of this state are fully abreast of their work. In Milwaukee county the circuit courts are something more than a year behind with the court's business. It is doubtful, however, whether this situation may be properly attributable to the courts or to the procedure of the courts. The six circuit judges of that county hold court continuously except for a short time during the summer vacation. They are devoting their entire time to the dispatch of business. A situation of this kind is not attributable to the faults of the courts nor can it be cited as justification for criticism of judicial procedure. It simply means that the legislature has not provided sufficient judges to promptly dispatch the business."

"I think we will all agree," continued Justice Owen, "that there are too many needless continuances of lawsuits over the term which have tendency to unduly protract litigation and delay the settlement of controversies.

"Averting to the criticism that courts be disposed to magnify technicalities, it is unnecessary for me to say that at the present time in the state of Wisconsin justice is not sacrificed by reason of technical considerations. I do not recall a single case that has been reversed since I became a member of the supreme court, and purely technical reasons. Owen, who expects a reversal of his case from the hands of that court, just now assigned, expects something which goes to the merits or to the justice of the case. No longer are cases reversed for a mere slip of the tongue in charging the jury or for any error unless it probably affected the result."

GIRLS TOO "GAZZED" TO DO THEIR WORK

London.—"More jazzing" at night means less work during the day, and employers of women complain. One said: "I have seen the spread of the jazz craze in the faces of my staff during the past few months. My typists arrive at the office very late and complain that the tram service broke down, but I can see by their wittered faces and languid air that they have had a brief night's rest and were probably dancing until the early hours of the morning." A girl who has been dancing until four o'clock in the morning is in such a state that she can hardly recognize the keys of the typewriter later on in the day."

AND HE DID

Maybe You've Had a "Wrong Steer"

On True Gasoline
Wadham's
WADHAMS OIL COMPANY "Emphatically Independent"

LIKE many other Janesville motorists, you may have been judging Wadham's Quality by the grade of Wadham's gasoline sold at 27c a gallon.

Most emphatically this is all wrong. There is only one criterion by which Wadham's quality should be judged. The criterion is

True Gasoline
Wadham's

30c per Gallon

This is the gasoline that has established the Wadham's reputation for the highest grade, straight-run gasoline sold in Wisconsin. It is the gasoline which has backed Wadham's in the long battle against the use of carbon-laden, kerosene-dripping, motor-destroying, monopoly-made mock motor fuel. It is the gasoline that has been accepted wherever introduced as the most economical in spite of its slightly higher first cost.

Frankly, it's our own fault that Janesville has "gone wrong" on Wadham's. If we had taken the proper steps to acquaint the motorists here with the demonstrated superiority of Wadham's True Gasoline (30c a gallon) over every other gasoline sold in Wisconsin, there would be no need for this explanation. But most cities had taken the higher grade for granted—so naturally we took it for granted. In Milwaukee the lower priced Wadham's grade totals a very small percentage of Wadham's volume of sales. In many Wisconsin cities Wadham's True Gasoline (30c a gallon) is the only gasoline handled—for there is a real appreciation for its quality and no demand for a lesser grade.

Possibly it is "bad business" for us to make these comparisons against one of our own products, especially as that product is enjoying a wide sale and is considered an absolutely satisfactory gasoline by so great a proportion of Janesville motorists. But we are not content to "leave well enough alone." It is by this highest grade gasoline—carbonless, keroseneless and mileful—by which we wish our name to be known and our service to be measured in the future.

Our lower price gasoline will still be sold. Its quality has not been cut and will not be. It will still remain by far the highest grade gasoline at any similar price, but we do not want it to be the criterion by which this institution is judged.

Test Wadham's True Gasoline Over the Week End

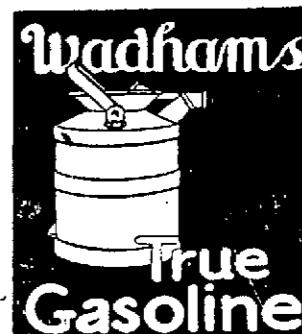

You'll have unlimited time during the next three days to heed the call of the open road and give Wadham's True Gasoline a real test. For your own satisfaction, why not drive to the nearest Wadham's station, drain your tank, and fill up with Wadham's True Gasoline (30c a gallon)?

The first thing you'll do will be to adjust your carburetor for a leaner mixture—but the longer you try it, the more outstanding will be the other advantages—your valves free from carbon, not a trace of kerosene in the crank case to ruin the efficiency of your lubricating oil.

If your garage man does not display this "sign of the red can," telephone to our wholesale distributing station (Franklin St. and Western Ave.)

THE INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSONS.

Third Quarter: Lesson 1: Acts II 34-47; I Thessalonians V 11-15; July 6, 1919.

Golden Text: Christ also loved the church and gave himself for it—Ephesians V 25.

THE CHURCH: IT'S LIFE AND WORK.

The human mind delights in origins. The book of Genesis of any kind whatever pleases more than others. It arrests attention when others fail. It provoked the mightiest contention. The Second Chapter of Acts is the book of Genesis of the Christian Church. It answers the question, "Whence?" "What like in the beginning?" And this is not a mere matter of curiosity, but is really of large philosophic importance, by means of which the church of today can be measured. By the size of it we can know whether the church has advanced or retrograded, whether it has preserved its original spirit and purpose or not. The characteristics of these apostolic converts were that they continued steadfastly (1) in the apostles' doctrine, viz., their oral teaching. They went to church. Communion of saints was not so much a matter of creed as of practice. (3) In the breaking of bread. They neglected not the speaking ordinance Jesus appointed to remind them of the offering of his life, which he made in loving service, an offering that others to imitate. (4) In prayer, literally, the prayers, prayers offered at a specific time and in a designated place; in other words, the prayer-meeting.

No wonder that a church made up of such members, steadfast in church attendance, in preferring Christian society to any other, in observing the sacraments, and going to prayer-meeting, thus spread the church, spreading her wings in the community in which it was located. A church consistent with her principles, faithful to her ordinances, disarmed prejudice, commanded respect, and found favor of all.

THE TEACHER'S LANTERN

The word church in the original signifies "assembly". It does not mean a building, nor an ecclesiastical organization, nor an institute of theology.

It means just folks, people men, women, children, who are those who have gathered in answer to a call.

The king told his councillors that he intended to kill all his enemies. To the astonishment of all, however, he set out for the province, not with an army, but alone and unarmed. On arrival, he called his rebellious subjects together, heard their grievances, promised amends, and received the re-pitiful fealty of his subjects. On his return, he told his councillors that he had killed his enemies by making them his friends.

Confederate Memorial Day.

April 26 is celebrated in Alabama, Georgia, Florida and Mississippi as Confederate Memorial day, a day that corresponds to May 30 in the North.

The day was established by a woman from Georgia, Mary Ann Williams, who, in a letter printed in the Columbus Times in 1866, called upon her fellow citizens to observe the following April 26 as a day "to wreath the graves of our martyred dead with flowers."

Americans Capture Trade in Chili During War

[BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS.]

Indianapolis, Ind.—American-made foods captured more than one-half of the trade in Chili during the war, and this supremacy may be retained if the manufacturers and jobbers continue to boost their wares, according to Joseph H. Shea, United States ambassador to Chili, who was at his home here recently on a visit.

"Before the war Germany held the bulk of Chilean trade with England second, France third and the United States fourth, but now the United States leads, and England, France, Japan and Italy are the contenders for that trade," he added. "Germany has very little trade in Chili."

Shea declares Chili is a country of opportunity, as it is in its infancy as far as mineral and agricultural development are concerned. He further says that the Chilean people are extremely friendly to the Americans and are eager to obtain other American iron and steel products.

Tide Steals Wooden Leg
As Owner Takes Plunge

[BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS.]

San Francisco, Cal.—James Bourke, miner from Goldsprings, Nevada, and his wooden leg marched down to the beach here for a look around. Bourke was humming the theme of "Dear Old Pal of Mine" to his wooden leg long before the song of that title gained its present popularity.

The bathing scenes fascinated Bourke. He heard the children scream with glee when the tide tickled their toes. He hastened about taking a dip on account of his wooden leg, which, among other virtues, possesses the buoyancy of life preserver. So he donned a bathing suit and arriving near the water line, parted company with his wooden leg.

After an hour's swim in the tide he returned to the beach to assemble himself. His white pine pal was gone. There was no mystery about it. he said. The tide mocked him as it told him about stealing his wooden leg.

Bourke scurried to the bathhouse, dressed, borrowed a lantern, and then sat down on the beach to await the possible return of his wooden leg.

Too Busy to Dig Grave
So Friends Perform Task

[BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS.]

Cottonwood Falls, Kan.—People in this county are too busy to dig graves for their departed friends. When the friends of Dick Watchous, a farm laborer, endeavored to find some one to dig a grave at Clements they were unable to get a man.

Came the day of the funeral and no grave dug. Early that morning several friends of Watchous went to the cemetery and dug the grave. Some of them traveled 15 miles to perform the last sad rite for their friend.

300 "Hygeno" Steel Carpet Sweepers, Worth $3.00 Each, For $1.39

A wonderful little sweeper in a wonderful sale at one-third its value—enormous production is the secret.

As the FORD CO. with a tremendous output lowered the price on an auto hundreds of dollars, the mammoth "HYGENO" factory with a capacity for turning out thousands of sweepers a day enabled us to purchase this lot of three hundred to sell at $1.39 each.

Publicity is the object—Publicity for the "HYGENO" sweeper and publicity for the HINTERSCHIED STORE—the prestige obtained in offering this unusually efficient household article at $1.39 will be too broad to measure in dollars and cents. Every housewife's eyes will dance with joy when she sees this little beauty; absolutely sanitary and efficient without being cumbersome; light in weight and so easy to run that a child can easily manipulate it. Polished in beautiful finish that makes it welcome in any home. We expect such a tremendous demand for these sweepers, when they go on sale, that we warn you we have but 300 to sell.
